.com and .eu domain costs

Short answer: Porkbun lists $11.08 for .com and $5.88 for .eu for both a one-year registration and a one-year renewal. These prices were reconfirmed in its public table. [1]

Cloudflare confirms at-cost pricing, but no numeric .com quote was found on the official pages read. Its supported-TLD list includes .com, not .eu. Namecheap's pricing pages still returned access challenges. Third-party .com figures are reported separately on page 3, not treated as verified current offers. [2] [3] [4]

Official-source comparison

Registrar / domain	First year, USD	One-year renewal, USD	Verification status
Cloudflare .com	not found	not found	No numeric official quote in pages read. [2]
Cloudflare .eu	not found	not found	Not listed as supported. [3]
Porkbun .com	$11.08	$11.08	Explicit price-table columns. [1]
Porkbun .eu	$5.88	$5.88	Explicit price-table columns. [1]
Namecheap .com	not found	not found	Official page blocked. [5]
Namecheap .eu	not found	not found	Official page blocked. [6]

"Not found" in this table means an official numeric value was not obtained. It does not mean zero cost. For Cloudflare .eu, absence from the supported list is a separate availability issue; for Namecheap, the obstacle was access to the source.

Scope: one ordinary, non-premium domain per extension; registration and renewal are separate transactions. The research date is not a promise that a price applies throughout 2026 or at a future renewal.

Porkbun: amounts unchanged

The pricing table identifies registration, renewal and transfer separately. Its .com row lists $11.08 for registration and renewal; its .eu row lists $5.88 for each. Neither selected row has the first-year-sale label used elsewhere in the table. [1]

Item	Register for one year	Renew for one year at listed rate
One .com	$11.08	$11.08
One .eu	$5.88	$5.88
Both domains — calculated total	$16.96	$16.96

Calculation: $11.08 + $5.88 = $16.96. If the listed rates remain unchanged, registration plus one renewal for both domains totals $33.92. These are calculations from the published rates, not package offers or guaranteed future invoices. [1]

Currency, term and fees

Porkbun states: “All prices are in USD.” It describes the figures as non-premium single-year registration, renewal and transfer prices and says they include ICANN and other fees. [1]

The individual extension pages also show $11.08 for .com and $5.88 for .eu as an “everyday low price.” The registration-versus-renewal distinction comes from the full price table, not from these headlines alone. [7] [8]

Limits of this quote

A customer-specific tax/VAT amount is not found in the price evidence used. No tax percentage, exchange rate or card surcharge has been inserted. The table’s fee wording is not treated as a customer-specific tax calculation. [1]

> Practical interpretation: $16.96 is the combined published annual amount for the two ordinary domains at Porkbun. Before buying, confirm the exact names, availability, term and final payable amount. This is a purchasing recommendation, not a claim that either desired name is available.

Cloudflare and Namecheap

Cloudflare: pricing policy, not a fixed dollar guarantee

Cloudflare says registration and renewal carry no registrar markup; its documentation describes renewal at the registry list price. The numeric .com registration and renewal prices remain not found on these official pages. The policy does not establish a permanently fixed dollar amount. [2] [9]

The complete supported-TLD list was reread. It contains .com but not .eu. No Cloudflare .eu purchase or renewal price is therefore supplied. This finding is limited to the published list checked on the research date. [3]

Namecheap: prices still cannot be verified directly

The .com, .eu and full-TLD-list pages each returned an HTTP 403 security challenge on this recheck. No official price was extracted. Access failure is not proof of product unavailability. [5] [6] [4]

Third-party figures: retained only as attributed reports

The DevToolPicks article carries a publication date of 22 May 2026. Its comparison table reports the following .com figures; their current checkout validity is unverified. [10]

Registrar	Reported first year	Reported renewal
Cloudflare	$10.44	$10.44
Namecheap	$5.98	$13.98

All figures in this table are attributed to DevToolPicks [10], not independently confirmed registrar quotes.

The same article lists Porkbun .com at $11.06, conflicting with the official $11.08 read for this brief. That discrepancy is a reason not to rank current offers using the third-party table alone. [10] [1]

Namecheap .eu prices and verified conditions for the reported .com deal remain not found in the evidence obtained. No coupon, expiry date or tax-inclusive total is asserted.

Sources and checks

Checked on 19 October 2026. All ten cited addresses were reopened using browser_read. Product prices, currency, term labels, names and the source statements retained in this edition were compared with the returned text. The monetary totals were recalculated.

Changes from the original brief

No correction was needed to Porkbun's listed amounts or to the $16.96 and $33.92 calculations. The checked edition adds the third-party article's publication date, makes the missing-price categories explicit, and replaces the earlier access-attempt description with the results of this recheck. It does not upgrade reported prices into verified offers.

Linked source register

[1] Porkbun — Domain Name Pricing: .com and .eu registration/renewal columns, USD and fee wording.

[2] Cloudflare — Registrar: at-cost policy; no numeric .com quote found in the page read.

[3] Cloudflare — TLD Policies: .com present; .eu absent from the list reread through its end.

[4] Namecheap — full TLD list: blocked on recheck; no price extracted.

[5] Namecheap — .com: blocked on recheck; no price extracted.

[6] Namecheap — .eu: blocked on recheck; no price extracted.

[7] Porkbun — .com: $11.08 headline corroboration.

[8] Porkbun — .eu: $5.88 headline corroboration.

[9] Cloudflare Registrar documentation: at-cost registration and registry-list-price renewal.

[10] DevToolPicks — Namecheap vs Porkbun vs Cloudflare Registrar vs GoDaddy for Indie Hackers in 2026: third-party .com comparison; publication date and reported amounts checked.

The checking date identifies this research activity, not a price-effective date. No login, purchase, tax calculation or exact-domain availability test was performed. Remaining gaps are stated rather than estimated.